CONN BROTHERS

I nominate E. F. M. Tindler, for Representative of Garrard county. A Republican.

The Aid Society will meet with Mrs. W. I. Williams next Saturday at the usual hour.

Circuit court adjourned Saturday, after a three week's session during which many important cases were disposed of.

The appearance of the famous Ralph Bingham at the Court House, on Monday night, attracted a large crowd and every body got the worth of his money.

New Smoke Stack.

The smoke stack of the Lancaster Water works fell Monday, as was expected an account of its age. Conn Brothers have contracted to put up one at a cost of $150, which will be done in a few days.

No Fault No Fine.

After giving the law, last issue, governing the running of automobiles, we wrote that, in cases of an accident, a fine or damages could be recovered, meaning, manifestly and only, when the party running the auto violated the law.

Space in Demand.

We add two pages to this issue to make room for merchants. Our subscription list is growing rapidly and space is in demand. It will pay the public to see what the merchants have to say, as well as to read our news columns.

Big Sale.

T. B. Robinson sold his beautiful home, on Stanford pike, containing 147 acres, to J. F. Holtzclaw, of Preachersville, for $14,850. We welcome Mr. Holtzclaw, who wants to take advantage of our school, and we are glad to know that Mr. Robinson will remain with us.

County Court.

Not quite an average crowd in town. Business was moderately brisk.

In Judge Fords court, the will of Michael Simpson was probated, giving 150 acres of land near Stone to his wife during her life, then to their children.

Master Commissioner, J. M. Rothwell sold the land of A. D. Ford, Plaintiff vs. Elijah Ford, Defendants, containing about 60 acres, for $1,200.

Cattle sold from $4 to 4c, sows and pigs from $10 to $16, mules from $150 to $200, plug horses from $30 to $60 and a bunch of 28 ewes and 29 lambs sold for $224.84.

G. A. Swinebroad sold a team of mules for $250 and a cow for $40.

Born, March 16 to Fred Hall and wife, of Paint Lick, a ten pound boy.

The Ladies of the Methodist church will have an exchange at the post office on Saturday before Easter.

An R. F. D. man requests that the exact change be left in boxes, for stamping letters, on his route, to avoid removing gloves to make change.

We regret that the Roll of Honor of the Graded School and the list of those paying subscription to the Record since last issue must be deferred 'till next week.

Measuring Party.

At High School Chapel Friday night March 26, benefit of Base Ball team. Bring five cents for every foot of your height and a penny for each additional inch. 3-19-25.

The annual convention of the 8th district Christian Endeavor Union will be held in the Christian church at Stanford April 30, May 1st. An interesting program is being arranged and the Endeavors of the district are urged to attend.

A Good Enterprise.

An effort is being made by the citizens of Bryantsville and Camp Dick Robinson to establish a Graded School. We hope that they will succeed, as that end of the county is one of the most fertile sections of Kentucky. The land will enhance in value, and every child in the district will be given an opportunity, for an education at home, thus saving the expense of a boarding school, besides having the watch-care, over the child, the value of which is beyond estimation.

First Lecture of the Course.

Tickets are now ready for the Transylvania University Extension Lecture Course. Admission to these lectures will be by ticket only. We shall try to see that every one who is interested be presented a ticket with an urgent request to attend. But if any one should be overlooked we will gladly furnish ticket on request.

Dr. T. B. McCartney gives the first of these lectures at the Presbyterian church Saturday night, March 27, at 8 p. m., subject, "Whither Are We Drifting?"

The Right Material.

David Ross, Garrard county's efficient jailer, was in town a few hours Friday. Mr. Ross was recently defeated for the Democratic nomination for sheriff in his county by a few votes. He never sulked in his tent, nor whined about it, but announced immediately that he was for the nominee and would fight to the last ditch for the ticket. That's genuine Democracy and the way to win battles, "Raggey," as he is familiarly dubbed, is a yard wide and all wool, both in politics and in the every-day walks of life.—Richmond Climax.

May Music Festival.

Kentuckians and those who are interested in Kentucky are looking forward with more than ordinary interest to the May Music Festival, which is to be held in Louisville, May 6, 7, and 8, because for the first time in Kentucky will be heard a grand opera star who claims the Blue Grass State as his home. Ricardo Martin, who has been singing with success for several seasons at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, is to be the leading tenor for the festival, and his friends from Hopkinsville, his home, and other towns through the Pennyrile, will be there in numbers to greet him.

A Card From Judge Bell.

Harrodsburg, Ky., Mch. 23 '09. To the voters of the 13th Judicial District:—

For some reasons I would ask the nomination of my party for Circuit Judge, and yet for stronger ones I feel I should refrain from seeking it, and retire to private life at this time.

Those who are nearest to me are insistent, and I have concluded, after careful consideration, not to offer.

I shall take my place, as formerly, in the party ranks, with the hope that I may be of some service there.

I shall never cease to labor for what I believe to be the cause of the people and the best interests of my party.

I can not express the deep appreciation I entertain for the exalted honor you have bestowed upon me, and I shall cherish with lasting devotion the happy friendships I have formed throughout the District.

W. C. Bell.

Well Known Here.

Maj. Curtis F. Burnam, a prominent Kentuckian, died at his home in Richmond last week in his eighty-ninth year. For over sixty years Maj. Burnam had been prominent in the affairs of Kentucky, and he was at one time a member of President Grant's Cabinet. He was originally a Whig and distinctively a Republican, although he was elected several times in a Democratic district without opposition. Maj. Burnam was one of the leading lawyers of Eastern Kentucky and was identified with the business interests of that section of the State for nearly three-quarters of a century. He leaves a large family of children, who have been prominent in Kentucky for years. He had many warm friends in this county.

Knights-Templar, J. M. Rothwell, J. S. Greenleaf, J. L. Gil, Capt. Wm. Herndon and H. V. Bastin attended the funeral on Sunday.

Born, March 20, to Joe Lawson and wife, of Paint Lick, a ten pound boy.

The County Superintendent requests all Trustees to call and get blanks for census report before April, first.

Sale Of Town Property.

Hughes & Swinebroad sold for J. I. Hamilton, a nice residence and six acres of land, on Crab Orchard street, to Frank Estes, for $2,200.

Ladies.

Get your Easter gowns in the leading shades—Rose, Camellia, Wisteria, Catawba, Khaki, Emerald and Maise. We have the new to suit all the new and up-to-date shades.

Miss Arnold, Danville Ave.

Mrs. Thos. Owens, of near Preachersville, while going up the steps into her porch, Saturday, fell and broke her arm just below the elbow. We regret to hear that this accident occurred and hope she will improve rapidly.

Insurance That Insures.

The late S. H. Anderson took a policy, on his life, issued by the Aetna Life Insurance company, making three payments. At the time of his death he had not paid the premiums for two years and sixty five days. The family thought the policy had lapsed, but investigation showed that it was still in force, running as extended insurance. Settlement was promptly made, by this great old company. You would do well to call on their agent, M. D. Hughes, and insure with that company.

Good For Lancaster.

Mr. L. T. McCarty in speaking of his trip to Lancaster as a juror, in the Jessamine Journal, after speaking highly of the Kengarian Hotel, and other institutions of which we are proud, closed by saying: The speeches being limited to thirty minutes each, at three o'clock the case was submitted to the jury and a verdict rendered in favor of defendant, after which Judge Bell thanked the jury for their service, a compliment of which they were all proud, and was replied to by W. E. Combs, who extended our thanks to the judge and all the officials for their courtesy and kindness bestowed while in the county seat of the grand old county of Garrard. We then took our departure for our respective homes which we reached about 8 p. m., feeling as one always feels after mingling with such noble and good people as Garrard county possesses. L. T. McCarty.

Seattle Exposition.

The state of Kentucky evidently realizes that the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, to open at Seattle, June 1st, will be an excellent means of advertising, for the governor has appointed a commission to arrange for participation at the Pacific exhibition and the Blue Grass state will be well represented. This was encouraging news to thousands of former Kentuckians, now residents of Washington, Oregon and California who desire to see their native state represented in some manner at the exposition. Kentucky is following the lead of several Eastern and middle Western states in this matter and when the exposition opens in a couple of months this grand old southern state will be there with flying colors and will join with the Western states in extending a welcome to the world at large on the shores of the Pacific.

A Very Sad Death.

On last Saturday afternoon, Harvey, the bright little son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McRoberts, was killed, near Stanford, by a wagon passing over his body. He had approached the wagon to speak to the driver, and likely attempted to climb on it falling under the wheel. His parents were from home, but arrived soon after the horrible accident. A vast throng of mourning relatives and friends attended the burial, at Buffalo Cemetery, on Monday, after brief services by Eld. J. L. Yandell.

Deceased was five years old and remarkably bright and intellectual for his age. His father is a brother of R. E. McRoberts and Miss J. R. Mount of this city. The family is prostrated with grief, and can only be consoled by an abiding faith that his departure from the tabernacle of clay added one more to the host of angels that sings praises to Jehovah.

March.

The new-born lambs now shiver in the cold and frosty breezes, the "sooner" calf with feeble voice humps up its back and freezes. We change our heavy underwear and fill the air with sneezes, and premature robins chirp out in the apple trees. The sunshine hies the south hill sides and starts the grass to growing, the bud begins to glow and swell—the next day it is snowing! The sap is in the maple trees and from the limbs is dripping, when suddenly a freezing blast comes through the forest ripping. The lousy yearling rubs his neck against the old cow stable, the brood sow humps her back and roots as deep as she is able. But while she digs a frozen storm from Moosejaw comes a scolding, the sow hicks back to her warm nest, for it has spoiled her rooting. The daisy in the sunny dell lifts up its head to blossom, it feels the north winds icy breath, and straightway it plays possum!

We have the first copy of the A. S. of E. News, a splendidly edited paper, in the interest of the Society of Equity. It is published at Winchester, and tobacco men would do well to read it.

Methodist Church Lancaster.

Services by the pastor, Sunday night Subject: "THE ETERNAL KIDNAP OF SOUL." The subject will be the last of the monthly series on "The overlooked realities of religion."

A Midnight Blaze.

About twelve o'clock Wednesday night, the handsome residence of Dr. Wm. Johnson, colored, on Campbell street, was discovered to be on fire and too late to be saved by the fire company.

The loss was total, the house being worth about $2,000. It was insured with Beazley & Haselden for $1,250.

To The Ladies.

I have just received another beautiful lot of stamping samples and Fancy embroidery patterns to be worked in one and two colors. They are all the latest styles and many handsome Easter patterns and tassels can be selected and finished. I am with my sister, Mrs. W. R. Gott, on Depot street and will appreciate a call for I have a beautiful line and invite all the ladies to see them. Miss Fannie Wilson.

Wedding.

Wednesday morning, Mr. Robert H. Whitaker and Miss Bruce Humphrey, accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. Bush, drove to the Glicher Hotel, in Danville, and there were united in holy wed-lock by Rev. O. P. Bush. After an enjoyable dinner at the hotel, the happy couple took the train for Terre Haute, Ind., to visit the bride's sister.

The bride was handsomely attired in a traveling suit of gray cloth, with hat and gloves to match. Mrs. Whitaker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Humphrey and is well known in person and disposition. Mr. Whitaker is a prosperous farmer and stock trader of Yates Center, Kansas. He is well known here, having lived here for several years. The heartiest of good wishes from their many friends go with them to their new home.

Arbor Day Proclamation.

To the people of Kentucky: The Governor asks all the people to fix upon Friday, April 2, 1909, as Arbor day for Kentucky, and hopes that every one who can, will plant at least one tree on that day, and that the people will hold public meetings by school districts, at school houses or other convenient places, to discuss tree planting, preservation of our forests, protection of the birds, school gardens and the work to clean up and make attractive the roads, streets and vacant lots, and to cultivate in all places neatness, order and beauty, to make our homes, our farms, roads and public squares more beautiful and pleasant, to the end that, as time goes by, all our State will be beautiful and winning, not only to passers-by, but for the joy, comfort, happiness and the mental and moral betterment of ourselves and all our people. Let us plant trees for the future, plant gardens for this year and all years to come and make every public place please the eye and cheer the hearts of all who see them.

Augustus E. Wilson, Governor of Kentucky. Ben L. Bruner, Secretary of State. February 25, 1909.

General News.

Robbers dynamited the safe in the bank at Coldwater, Okla., and escaped with $2,000.

It is reported at Washington that President Taft will extend the order placing four class postmasters under the civil service to include the Southern States.

The Standard Oil Company is well taken care of in the Payne tariff bill. The provision concerning the importation of oil is the same as in the Dingley law.

Speaker Cannon has set his foot down on general legislation at the special session of Congress. He has announced that committees will not be named until adjournment.

The movement to convert the birthplace of Jefferson Davis in Christian county into a memorial park for Southerners was revived at Hopkinsville. Options on the Davis farm expire April 27 and it is requested that all Confederates and their sympathizers interested send their contributions for the purchase of the Davis place to S. A. Cunningham, Nashville, Tenn.

The jury in the case of D. B. Cooper and Robin J. Cooper, at Nashville, returned a verdict finding the defendants guilty of murder in the second degree and fixing their penalty at twenty years, imprisonment in the Tennessee penitentiary. Immediately after the verdict was read the defense moved to set it aside because of the verdict of disagreement on Friday, and asked the court to declare it a mistrial. Judge Hart said he would listen to arguments on this motion later. He then fixed the defendants' bond at $25,000 each, which was promptly given, and they were released from custody.

Willie Whitla was returned to his father at the Hollenden Hotel, Cleveland, Monday, after his father had paid the $10,000 ransom to a woman in a confectionery in the East end of Cleveland. The lad was put on a street car by one of his captors, who paid his fare, and walked into the hotel lobby asking for his father. The youngster said he was well treated and seemed to have no realization of the dreadful predicament in which he had been. He described as well as he could the places to which he had been taken, Mr. Whitla refused to give the police any information that would help him in finding the kidnapers.

Squeezed.

"There's nothing in physiognomy," observed the man who had been stung. "I desired to be ruler in my own household, so I married a woman with a weak chin, which she had inherited from her mother. Later I found that she also had a stubborn disposition, which she had inherited from her father."

Mark Twain On Advertising.

Mark Twain says: "When I was editing the Virginia City Enterprise, writing copy one day and mining the next, a superstitious subscriber once wrote and said he had found a spider in his paper. Was this good or bad luck? I replied to him in our 'Answers to Correspondents' column as follows:

"Oh! Subscriber—The finding of a spider in your copy of the Enterprise was neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our pages to find out what merchant was not advertising, so that it could spin its web across his door, and lead a free and undisturbed existence forever after."

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

To the Democratic party of the 13th Judicial District: I am a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge of this district. I prefer a primary election.
M. C. SAUFLEY.

We are authorized to announce Hon. Chas. A. Hardin, of Harrodsburg, as a candidate for re-nomination for the office of Commonwealth Attorney for the 13th Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce Hon. John Sam Owsly Jr as a candidate for the nomination for circuit Judge of this 13th district, subject to the action of the Democratic Party.

President Taft's message to Congress was brief, and to the point.

The assertion of the RECORD, that the Coopers should not be acquitted for killing Senator Carmack was verified by a verdict of twenty years in the penitentiary. Sarcasm cannot be so withering as to justify homicide. Better proceed by injunction.

Federal lightning will likely strike our town soon, as it is believed that Attorney Louis L. Walker will be the next District Attorney for the Eastern District. Democrats have no say, but, if it should become true the office will be well and ably filled.

A lecturer before the Medico League Society of New York has asserted that Americans take too many baths. A reporter for the RECORD, who has voted the Democratic ticket for forty two years, says that he will vote for that lecturer for President, regardless of politics.

Gov. Wilson has refused the request of the Anti-Saloon League to call a special session of the Legislature. Among the several reasons given he says that there is no urgent necessity for it, that nine-tenths of the State is dry, and that the condition of the treasury will not justify such an expense. The fight will be made at the next regular session.

OFFICIAL CALL.

The Democratic Committee in and for the Thirteenth Judicial District of Kentucky met pursuant to the call of Chairman G. L. Penny, at the office of Chenault Huguely, in Danville, Boyle County, Kentucky, on Tuesday, March 23, 1909, at 2 p. m. and all members were present. Said meeting was called to order by Chairman Penny. Chairman announced that the election of a Secretary of said Committee was duly nominated and elected. Secretary of said Committee, Mr. Huguely, then introduced the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

1—A primary election is hereby called, to be held in the several voting precincts of Lincoln, Boyle, Garrard and Mercer Counties between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m., on Saturday, May 8, 1909, for the purpose of nominating Democratic candidates for the offices of Circuit Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney in and for the Thirteenth Judicial District of Kentucky, to be voted for at the regular November election, 1909.

2—All Democrats who are legal voters shall be entitled to vote in said primary election, and are requested to do so.

3—Any person who desires to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge or Commonwealth's Attorney shall, not later than April 30, 1909, give notice of such intention, in writing, to G. L. Penny, Chairman of the District Committee, of the Thirteenth Judicial District, and, in addition, candidates for the nomination for Circuit Judge shall, at the time of giving said notice, deposit with the aforesaid chairman the sum of $500, and candidates for the nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney shall, at the time of giving said notice deposit with the chairman $300.

4—Said District Committee shall meet at the office of the secretary in Danville, Kentucky, on Wednesday, May 5, 1909, at 2 p. m. and if, at the expiration of the time fixed by section 3 hereof, there be not more than one candidate for Circuit Judge or Commonwealth's Attorney, who has complied with the conditions of section 3, then the Committee will declare to be the nominee for the office sought that person who is the only candidate, and shall refund to such candidate the entrance fee paid by him, less his proportion of the costs already accrued from advertising and preparing for the election.

5—The polls shall be opened in each and every precinct, at the counties in the district aforesaid, in the usual and regular voting places.

6—Upon the closing of the polls, the officers shall proceed to count the ballots and to make returns, and in so doing shall be governed by the provisions of the general election laws, and the returns shall be made to the chairman of the respective counties in the district, who will deliver the stub-books, the certificates, and any questioned ballots to this Committee.

7—The officers of election shall be selected from lists to be offered by the candidates, in accordance with the provisions of the primary election law, by the district committee.

8—Each candidate shall be entitled to designate by written notice to the chairman of each county committee in the district, not less than five days before May 15th, 1909, the name of one person for each voting precinct in each county, to act as challenger and inspector for said candidate at said primary election.

9—On the next day after the returns shall have been made, the committee shall meet and canvass the vote, cast and issue certificates of nomination.

10—The chairman of the district is directed to employ a competent person to copy from the regular registration books made in Danville and Harrodsburg in 1908 the names of all Democrats, and the person so employed shall return the copies, certified as required by law, to the chairman, who shall cause them to be duly delivered to the officers of election. The chairman is further directed to cause to be printed and prepared for use the requisite number and kind of ballots, which shall bear the fac simile of his signature, and he will procure the necessary election supplies and cause them to be delivered to the officers of election, as required by law.

11—The chairman will cause copies hereof, certified by himself as the secretary of the committee, to be posted at the court house door in Stanford, Lancaster, Danville and Harrodsburg, and in twenty other conspicuous places in each county in the district for not less than forty days prior to May 15th, 1909, and said notice shall be published in each Democratic newspaper in the district.

Said Committee, on motion, then adjourned.

G. L. Penny, Chairman.
Chenault Huguely, Secretary.

Courting Trouble.

The editor of the Anderson News, published in Lawrenceburg, makes the following announcement in the last issue of his paper:

"The average country editor is a chump. He will submit to the abuse of some old, miserly skilful of Shyluck in the community for years, and when death in all its merciful kindness removes the worthless old carcass to a place that has possibly been eager and yawning for years to even up his devilish score, Mr. Editor, in laudatory language and half-column space, will pour out his hypocritical sympathy touchingly, yet pathetically. Not so with the News. The next old reprobate that shuffles off may die with this troubled thought on his mind, that we are going to everlastingly lambaste him as soon as we have proof that his grouchy life has been snuffed out and he is on his way home. Some of you old reprobates, be you one or many, had better take due notice and come in and 'make good' with us before the last call, for there is not a drop of sentimental hypocrisy or surviving pretense to our heart."

Wm. Manlove, Tipton, Ind., says: I had cholera in my herd and did not use a hog after giving them Bourbon Hog Cholera Remedy. In my judgment this medicine is a sure cure for hog cholera." For sale by J. R. Mount & Co.

A Gem of Thought.

'Neath a sunny sky but yet within the grasp of chilling winds, we await with impatience the coming of the glorious spring-time. All Nature yearns for the soothing touch of its fairy fingers and silent peep through balmy zephyrs, to burst forth from prison walls and proclaim again the beauty of vegetative profusion.

All ready has the timid dandelion reared its golden crest to smile in mute content, and the dainty violets in the woodland peep from beneath the leaves of summers past. The winter chirp of the wren has changed to notes of song and the robin's laconic call has given place to warbling melody, while the mocking bird hops merrily among the leafless boughs and now again ventures a note of impatient delight.

If the Designer thus assures the drooping violet, after the frosts of winter have seared its petaled face to bloom again 'mid summers realm, and gives to the sturdy oak, whose leaves lie withering at its feet the certainty to live again, will He—can He forget the spirit of man when death, the frost of Life's winter, claims the body?

If He causes each waning night, whose end is foretold by the crimsoned Eastern sky, to pass—O, so gradually and so surely into the bloom of another day, will He withhold a life hereafter from the souls that have gone?

Can God give to inanimate matter, that which a human heart rendered cold and pulseless by His divine decree dare not claim or expect?

Ah! His every law made plain by nature's force, bespeaks a life beyond the grave. We know not how, or where we will spend eternity, but at the proper time and with the Master's bidding we shall understand.

Progressive.

A generation ago when the South began to establish public schools there were already in existence many private high schools, endowed academies and church schools. Hence, no provision was made for any but elementary schools. These private schools were taught by graduates from Virginia, Yale, Harvard and other great Universities. They did their work well, and trained some of the greatest men of our country. These schools were for those boys who came from homes of culture and wealth, while here and there a boy of promise from a humble home was received and developed.

Now, nearly all these private schools have passed away, and every Southern state has made some provision in the last five years for public High Schools open to every boy and girl in the commonwealth who show and aptitude and inclination for higher training than the common school can give.

Conditions have changed, and the schools which were once the schools of the masses. And with the change in purpose there is a call for a change in methods. The old classical course with Mathematics, Latin and Greek for all alike, must be reshaped to meet the needs of the present. The boy who takes no interest in the subjects of the old curriculum may find a great interest in the natural life, vegetable and animal of his community, and in the principles of botany, zoology, chemistry, and physics.

This is a scientific age. Scientific knowledge has added to life in the last fifty years so much that we could not begin to sum up the conveniences and enjoyments which it has produced. Scientific men tell us that we are just learning the alphabet of what may come within a few years. A few months ago Mr. Edison prophesied that a new fertilizer would be extracted from the nitrogen of the air; and almost before his ink was dry came the announcement that just such a result had been obtained by means of a recently invented electrical machine.

To-morrow we may awake to find all our streams harnessed to dynamos to drive our farm machinery. The auto which seems to have come to stay may soon be thrown into the junk pile and the flying machine take its place. Whatever may come, we know that this is an age of sharp competition, and if the children of one state, or county, or community is not prepared to compete with the children of other communities, if they have not training in business and commercial affairs and in scientific knowledge, then they must work in the mills and in the mines, "hew the wood and draw the water" for those who are trained.

The best investment which we can make for Lancaster is a school of high efficiency. Whether the County Board think it wise or not to enter with us in strengthening our school, and furnishing to the county pupils an unsurpassed High School training, we believe our own people should put forth every effort to meet the demands of the time. With a new building properly arranged we can change our system of promotion somewhat, so that the more capable pupils will not have to linger through a whole year with the slower plodding ones. This promotion only at the end of the year is the greatest defect in the graded school system. Our plan would be to have grade teachers for pupils through the sixth grade. From the sixth on through the High School the teachers should have charge of departments. Employ teachers who have special skill and training for each of the departments of Mathematics, Languages, Literature, History and Science. Such teachers, each being a specialist in his department, would bring a skill and accuracy, a freshness and interest to the subject under his teaching such as would tend to produce enthusiastic learners with a desire for real scholarship. And this can all be done without additional cost in maintaining the school, after we have erected a new school building constructed on the departmental plan.

If our friends throughout the county shall, through the County Board, join with us we can then employ the best teachers to be found, also increase our equipment, thus giving to Garrard County a High School second to none in the State, and that, too, at a nominal cost to the county at large. By all means, let every section of the county vote a graded school if a majority of their people want it. Would that they could see how much it would be worth to the county if it were divided into several graded school districts with comfortable and attractive buildings, with a corps of trained teachers, and a nine months term. But, the law, as I understand it, says that the first County High School shall be established at the county seat. It is to the interest of the pupils of the county at large that this school be under specially trained teachers, and that equipment be adequate for teaching the High School subjects—a thing that will hardly be possible for some time at least at any point in Garrard County, other than in the Lancaster School, unless the County Board make a very much larger levy than we ask, and establish an Independent County High School.

In another article I shall try to set forth what seems to me a feasible plan for the improvement of all the schools of the county.

Very truly,
D. W. Bridges.

JOSIAH'S HORSE TRADE.

"Josiah," said Aunt Susan after she had heard the particulars of the horse trade in which her husband had apparently finished a poor second, "you're the worst fool I ever seen. Laws-a-mercy, ain't you old enough to know yet that when a person wants to get up a trade with you for something you ain't anxious to get rid of it's because they want to cheat you? I declare to goodness I think sometimes you git so you know less and less the older you grow. You wa'n't never too smart, as far as that's concerned, and I often wonder how I've managed to put up with you as long as I have; but this caps the climax. The idea of tradin' off a horse with nothin' worse than the heaves and mabby a spavin or two for that critter you've brought home. It's that humblatin' I don't know what I'll ever be able to say when the neighbors git to askin' about it."

"I'll tell you what to do," replied her husband, as he laid his knife aside and began scooping up the pork gravy with a spoon. "If the neighbors git to askin' questions that's embarrasin' you just turn the subject off by tellin' 'em about sendin' on 50 cents for 20 useful articles and gittin' that number of pins."

Then Aunt Susan wiped her eyes with her checked apron, and said between her sobs:

"You always was such a hand to harp, Josiah! And anyway, I want you to understand it was money I got for eggs my own hens laid. I hope this horse you got'll die. Then, maybe, you'll have a little sympathy in your heart once and awhile."—S. E. Kiser, in Chicago Record-Herald.

Unaccountable Mistake.

All was quiet in the sleeping car. Suddenly the passenger in lower No. 7 parted the curtains, thrust out a weather-beaten face, and hailed the stable functionary who was tiptoeing past.

"Say," he grumbled, "where's the pillars for this bunk?"

"There are your pillows, suh," said the porter.

"Them things!" exclaimed the passenger. "Smash 'em my tonight! I thought them was the life preservers!"—Chicago Tribune.

The Unhappy Medium.

"Bronson is one of the most humble men I ever saw."

"Yes. Arrogance seems to be wholly foreign to his make-up."

"I wonder why it is that he always has such a servile manner?"

"I think it is because he is neither rich enough to get into a train, nor poor enough to belong to a union."—Judge.

TOO SUGGESTIVE.

Playwright (describing play)—Then you have a very strong scene when you trample on all the ties of home affection and—

Well-Known Actor—Cut that out.

Playwright—But it is a very strong scene.

Well-Known Actor—Maybe so; but I don't propose to tramp on any ties.

MARKSBURY.

Mr. John Eiger and family and Miss Ella Howard visited Mr. and Mrs. Burnam Ledford on Buckeye pike Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burdett, of Brantsville, visited relatives here Monday.

Miss Cora Price, of Casey county has been spending several days with Miss Maggie Hogg.

Miss Kay Jenkins will go this week to make a short stay with her brother, Mr. Colby Jenkins, of Georgetown. She will also visit Miss Lucile Dawes while there.

Mrs. Johanna Marsee was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Partin, upper Garrard Saturday.

Miss Susie Higgins, of Paint Lick, was the guest last week of Miss Georgia Dunn.

The Bible Study class will give an entertainment next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Grove church. The programme will consist of music and paper will be read on biography of prominent men of old Testament history by Misses Georgia Dunn, Elizabeth and Lula Simpson, Bettie Royston and Maggie Hogg. The public is invited to attend.

Rev. H. M. Shouse will preach next Sunday morning at the usual hour. His text will be "Thou Shalt not Covet." A good sermon and a well filled house is expected.

Mr. C. M. Jenkins was badly kicked on his right leg by a colt sometime ago. The pain was so intense that he was confined to his bed for several days. He is much improved now but continues lame from the wound. Fortunately no bones were broken.

Mrs. Wm. Broadus has been critically ill at her home for the past week the result of a severe operation.

UNION.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. McQuerry visited relatives at Cartersville, Sunday.

Mr. Wm. Parson and family, of Point Leavel, were the guests of R. F. Parson.

Miss Fannie Austin, of Lancaster, was the charming guest of her aunt, Miss S. E. Hammack several days last week.

The three months old girl of Joe King's died the 18th and was laid to rest beside her mother in Paint Lick cemetery, whose death occurred a few weeks ago.

Miss S. E. Hammack has improved the appearance of her store by a metal roof. Our town now has three good stores, church, school, mill and blacksmithshop. Who says it's not on a boom.

PREACHERSVILLE.

Master William Blankenship has been very sick.

Mrs. Mollie Bell, wife of Levi Bell, has been very ill of heart trouble.

Mrs. John B. Anderson and family were visiting her mother, Mrs. Osa Naylor recently.

Miss Mary Carpenter has returned from a pleasant visit to Miss Fannie Collier, at Crab Orchard.

Mr. Ira Holtzclaw, who is attending Smiths Business College at Lexington, visited his father, Mr. J. F. Holtzclaw J. D. Horton had a fine driving mare to get cut very badly on a wire fence.

Mrs. Henry Blankenship, who has been ill for some two months is about the same, no improvement.

Mr. Carlo B. King, of Norman, Okla. is with friends and relatives here. Mr. King formerly lived here.

Mr. W. P. White lost a nice lot of cord wood by the recent freshet on Dix river. "Time and Tide waits for no man."

Several from this place attended the burial of Mrs. Jas. I. White, of Stanford. The burial occurred near Mt. Vernon. Deceased was a sister of Mrs. J. J. Thompson, of Garrard.

Miss Lizzie Pettus will begin a select school this week in the lower part of Masonic Hall. Miss Pettus is a fine teacher and deserving of a liberal patronage.

John Kennedy bought of J. K. Sutton, his farm for $1,200. Mr. Sutton is as yet, undecided where he will locate. We hope he will stay in our city as he is one of our best citizens.

J. H. Thompson, who bought the Holtzclaw homestead a few days since, has had all the blue shade trees cut down and will raise corn instead, even unto the door stone. This was considered the nicest yard for miles around and the weary wayfarer will miss one of Preachersville's noted landmarks.

Taking It in Sections.

"This is a new shaving soap I'm using," said the barber. "How do you like it?"
"Applied externally," spluttered the victim.

PORTLAND, MAINE, CHILD

Weak and Emaciated, Restored to Health by Vinol
"Our little daughter, six years of age, after a severe attack of the measles, which developed into pneumonia, was left pitifully thin, weak and emaciated. She had no appetite, and her stomach was so weak it could not retain food. She lay in this condition for weeks, and nothing the doctor prescribed did a bit of good, and we were beginning to think she would never recover."

"At this time we commenced to give her Vinol, and the effect was marvelous. The doctor was amazed at her progress, and when we told him we were giving her Vinol, he replied, 'It is a fine remedy, keep it up.' We did so, and she recovered her health and strength months before the doctor thought she could." J. W. Flagg, Portland, Me.

Vinol cures conditions like this because in a natural manner it increases the appetite, tones up the digestive organs, makes rich, red blood, and strengthens every organ in the body. McRoberts Drug Store.

POULTRY AND BEES

HOW TO PLUCK CHICKENS.
Why Dry Picking is Apt to Prove the Most Satisfactory.

Of course any housewife knows how to pluck chickens, says the farmer, but do they know how to prepare the birds so that they will be attractive to the eye (which counts much to the purchaser)? When a bird is plucked dry the poultryman will receive more per pound for the fowl than when it is scalded.

In picking dry, the breast should be plucked first, starting near the crop. After the breast the thighs, then the back near the base of the tail, and last the wings. As soon as the feathers have been removed the wings should be twisted over the back and the feet washed, after which the thighs and legs should be pressed to the body either by placing a brick on the bird's breast or by tying the bird, the object of this being to give the bird a plump or blocky appearance.

Any aged bird may be scalded without seriously injuring its quality if it is properly handled; but owing to the large number of poorly dressed scalded fowls the marketmen place a premium of from one to two cents a pound on dry-plucked stock. Boiling water may be used, but care must be taken not to leave young birds in the water too long, or the skin will cook, while with old fowl a little more time may not do any harm. The head and shanks should be kept out of the water, as the scalding will discolor them and make them unsightly.

Immediately after the bird is taken from the scalding water it should be dipped into cold water to stop the cooking, and, as poultrymen say, to "plump the bird." The bird should then be hung to a line with feet tied together as no bird plucked on the lap or a table will have so good an appearance.

If a scalded bird is exposed to a draught when being plucked or when cooling, the skin is likely to harden and become tough. It is because of these possibilities that dry picking is recommended by large raisers of poultry, as the condition of the skin to a great extent accounts for the high or low returns received.

HANDY BEE HIVE CARRIER.

Get It Ready for Putting the Hives Out in the Spring.

To make a bee hive carrier similar to that shown in the accompanying illustration, select two small saplings about six feet long and how a flat surface on each of them. Nail a board four feet long and 12 inches wide on each flat surface as indicated. The saplings can be cut any desired length.

Using the Bee Hive Carrier.

SPECIAL FATTENING.
Give the Poultry a Special Finish Before Marketing.

A good many dollars are lost every year by farmers because they send their poultry to market in poor condition as regards flesh. On many farms the practice is to ship every winter several crates of live poultry, young and old, and in most cases the specimens sold are picked up off the range and no attention is paid to the condition of flesh. The farmer can fatten his poultry cheaper than any one else under the sun and in most cases over a pound of weight can be added to every fowl sold at a cost of not more than five cents. The extra flesh added would make the entire consignment sell for one or two cents a pound more than it otherwise would, at the lowest estimate.

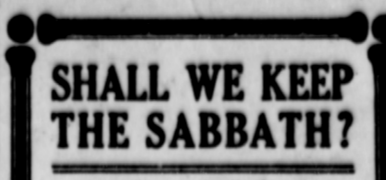

All the fowls that are to be sold should be selected three weeks before the time they are to be shipped and placed in separate quarters, suggests The Farmer. They should be given a reasonably sized pen indoors and a fair sized yard outside, where they may exercise somewhat in fair weather. They should be fed three times a day, morning, noon and night. The morning and noon feeds may consist of one part corn meal, one part ground oats with the hulls sifted out, one part bran and a third of a part of high grade beef scraps. This may be mixed with water or milk, though if milk is used not quite so much beef scraps will be needed. The night feed should be of cracked corn. Fresh water should be given to drink and a box of grit and one of charcoal should be placed where the fowls can reach it at any time. No more should be fed at each meal than the birds will eat up. A one feed and any that is left over after 15 minutes should be taken away and the feeding troughs removed.

The Poultry House.
Poultry houses do not need gingerbread work. Such ornaments are expensive and sometimes are not even artistic. Square corners, straight, plain walls give less chance for vermin to congregate and breed, and are more easily cleaned. A house that is neat without and clean within will make a pleasant home for the hens.

Alarming Warning.
In an English village an official notice reads as follows: "The public are warned against using the well for domestic purposes unless previously boiled."

The Still, Small Voice.

Sure healing is not in the storm, or in the whirlwind; it is not in monarchies, or aristocracies, or democracies, but will be revealed by the still small voice that speaks to the conscience and the heart, prompting us to a wider and wiser humanity.—Lowell.

SHALL WE KEEP THE SABBATH?

By REV. A. C. DIXON, D. D.,
Pastor of the Chicago Ave. Moody's Church, Chicago.

The Sabbath existed before the law was given to Moses on Sinai. It is one of the laws of nature, and is founded primarily on the necessities of man. It is a physical necessity. Dr. William D. Love, in his excellent book entitled "Sabbath and Sunday," gives a great fundamental fact when he says: "Laws for rest are stationed all along the physical nature. The lungs rest after each breath we take. The blood vessels rest between the heart beats. The nerves and brain will have rest and reviving themselves upon us if we cut short the supply. The ordaining of day and night to follow each other in quick succession through all ages of the world was a merciful appointment of God; without it the human species would probably have become extinct at a very early period of time. But experience and observation have shown that the rest of night, and all forms of daily and nightly rest put together are insufficient for the highest end of man's physical well being. There must be days as well as nights of rest."

A Physical Necessity.

Lord Macaulay does not speak too strongly when he says: "While industry is suspended, while the plow lies in the furrows, while the exchange is silent, while no smoke ascends from the factory, a process is going on quite as important to the wealth of the nation as any process which is performed on more busy days. Man, the machine of machines, is repairing and winding up, so that he can return to his labor on Monday with clearer intellect, with livelier spirits, with renewed corporal vigor." And Coleridge was not too extravagant when he exclaimed: "I feel as if God by giving the Sabbath had given 52 springs in the year."

A Mental Necessity.

The Sabbath is also a mental necessity. A man of 25 years' observation in New York city said that those merchants of his acquaintance who kept open their counting rooms on Sunday failed without exception. William Wilberforce declared that many public men who began life with him found an early grave, some being maniacs and others suicides, and he attributed the cause of their premature and untimely end to their disregard of the Sabbath.

A Moral Necessity.

The Sabbath is a moral necessity. More than 90 per cent. of all criminals were habitual Sabbath breakers before they became criminals. An English chaplain of prisons declared that during 28 years of service he had made it a point to see in private those who were charged with capital offenses, and that he did not remember a single case among them all where the party had not been a Sabbath breaker, and many of them assured him that Sabbath breaking was the first step in their course of crime.

A Spiritual Necessity.

The Sabbath is certainly a spiritual necessity. There is no such thing as Christianity without it. Without it the church cannot exist, and there is no such thing as growth in grace to those who desecrate the Lord's day. A company of rough men in the west assembled in front of a country church awaiting the time of service. One of them asked another why he did not bring with him his gun, that he might kill some game on his return home. The other replied: "Suppose I should come up here with seven fine horses and should say: 'Boys, I would like to give you six of these horses to be yours, you can use them as you will. I only want one.' You would take my six horses and then follow me down the road to rob me of the horse which I have kept. Now, fellows, ain't that mean?" And yet that is just what the man does who robs God of the Sabbath by doing his own pleasure and working for himself on that day. God has given him the six days, and it is simply robbery for him to take the seventh.

The Christian who desecrates the first day of the week is guilty of a double transgression. He violates the principle of the decalogue and at the same time tramples upon the Resurrection day of his Lord. If he halows the first day of the week he receives a double blessing in obeying the law and in honoring him who died for him and rose again.

First Corn in Kansas.

The earliest mention of corn in Kansas is found in the account of Coronado's expedition in 1541. Prof. Willis, in his book "The Corn in the West," found charred corn in the ruins of prehistoric Indian pueblos in Scott county, estimated by him to be at least two and a half centuries old. In some of the rooms there was found charred corn to a depth of five or six inches. The first mention of growing corn in Kansas of which there is any record is in the narrative of the expedition of Bourgmont, commander of the French colony of Louisiana. Bourgmont found the Kaw Indians cultivating corn on the present townsite of Doniphan in 1764.

Unequaled as a Cure for Croup.

"Besides being an excellent remedy for colds and throat troubles, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is unequaled as a cure for croup," says Harry Wilson, of Waynetown, Ind. When given as soon as the croupy cough appears, this remedy will prevent the attack. It is used successfully in many thousands of homes. For sale by F. P. Friable.

Public Sale.

Desiring to change my location, I will on, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 14, 1909, at my home in Preachersville, Kentucky, sell at outcry the following personal property to-wit:

One milk cow and calf, 2 milk cows, 2 yearling heifers, 1 steer calf, 2 brood mares, 1 in foal to Jack, 1 three-year-old filly, 1 two-year-old horse, both by Silver King, 2 Jennets, one four-year-old mule, well broken; 2 counting three-year-old horse mules; 1 coming two-year-old mare mule; 200 barrels of corn; 500 bushels of hay, lot of baled straw, 1 two-horse team; 2 buggies and harness; 1 mowing machine; some plows and plow gear and many other things. Also one Jack for sale. He is big hands high, 4 years old, bred by Black Cloud, he by Tom Keene, has been broken and is a good breeder.

I will at same time and place offer my farm of 175 acres. This property is situated in Preachersville, Lincoln county, Kentucky and is one of the most desirable farms in this locality; near church, school house, and post office, is well watered, Drakes Creek running through the farm. About fifty acres of bottom land and as good as the county affords; both hemp and tobacco having been raised on the land. A good dwelling house on this farm of 7 rooms, a good cellar made out from house, a good vineyard and orchard, stock barn, tobacco barn and 100 feet to square and holds 7 acres of tobacco. Also a tenant house, on farm, of 4 rooms. This land will be sold for cash or one-third cash and remainder in one and two years at 6 per cent. per annum with lien. Terms on personal property made known on day of sale. Sale begins at 10 o'clock a.m. A copy of the deed to look at the property will call at this farm.

WAS GIVEN UP TO DIE.

B. Spiegel, 1204 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured."

THE CENTRAL RECORD should be taken by every citizen in this community. It stands for better and higher citizenship and will always be found upon the side of right.

There are some young gentlemen in this vicinity who think it manly to be profane and rowdyish at public gatherings. Young men this is a great mistake and you should raise your standard far above such conduct and strive to reach the top most round of citizen ship.

Natural Envy.

Pertinent Points.

Go to the right store for it—thus making your ad-reading pay you.

Perhaps there is an offer made in one of today's ads that you couldn't find again in a year.

If a woman is a "bargain-hunter" her husband need not be quite such a horrid money-hunter.

An uncompleted—yet important—"visit to a store" will probably follow your reading of today's ads.

Somebody will secure the one best bargain to be found in today's ads. Haven't you some ambition to be that person?

NABOTH, JR.

Naboth, Jr. is a rich red bay, 8 years old and full 16 hands high, weighs 1225 pounds and is a horse of wonderful beauty, having a long, rangy neck and carrying a fine tail. He is a perfect speed in harness and a greater racking horse can not be found in the State of Kentucky. I have been a dealer in fancy horses for ten years, furnishing them for all the markets in this country and I am anxious to encourage the breeders of horses to continue to raise better ones. As is generally known there is a scarcity of good horses, and those suitable for the Eastern market bring fancy prices. If the breeders would raise "Number one" horses they must take the mare to the right kind of sire. Naboth, Jr., beyond all doubt, is a horse that will produce that type of horses that the market demands, and for which the public is willing to pay high prices. I purchased this great young stallion at a fancy price because he has size, style, action, beauty and breeding. I had this horse worked 30 days and he stepped a mile in 2:40. If like Naboth, Jr. you can get the right kind of horses by breeding to Naboth, Jr., you will note that this Stallion has the blood of Old Naboth, Hambletonian 10, Old Messenger Chief, Red Wilkes, George Wilkes, Manbrino Chief, Pilot Jr and Harry Clay.

Pedigree.

By Naboth, 10015 2:19 1/4. He by Walsingham, 2166, sire of Latitude 2:19 1/4 and several others in the list. Walsingham by George Wilkes.

Old Naboth's first dam, Tinsed by Messenger Durock 106, son of Hambletonian, second dam, Bess, sister to James Howell, Jr by Hambletonian, Third dam, Jessie Sayre by Harry Clay 45. Fourth dam, by Liberty, son of Lance, by American Kelpies.

Naboth, Jr's first dam by Messenger Chief, Jr by Old Messenger Chief. Second dam by Cret Davis, by Red Wilkes, Third dam Thoroughbred.

Naboth, Jr will be 12 during the season of 1909 at my stable in Lancaster, Ky., and will be permitted to serve mares at the very low price $15.00 to insure a living colt. I am prepared to care for stock from a distance at reasonable prices but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes of stock committed to my care.

NOTICE: Naboth, Jr., is the sire of the colt that won the 1000. champion colt stake, also the sire of the winner of the yearling stake, at the Lancaster Fair 1908.

Farm and Stock.

COMING EVENTS.

Lancaster Fair, July 28-30.

Kentucky Beef Cattle Association, in May.

Kentucky State Fair, at Louisville, September 13 to 18th.

Clay Arnold sold an extra good team of mares mules to T. B. Walker for $400.

R. M. West & Co., has purchased from Madison county parties hemp to the amount of 700,000 pounds paying from $5 to $5.50.

Col. John T. Hughes, of Lexington, sold to W. W. Wyatt, of Carthage, Tenn., a two-year-old saddle stallion, by Rex McDonald, dam by Highland Denmark, second dam by Rex Peavine for $750.

J. I. Hamilton sold to G. H. Lane, Beuna Vista, Ky., the 4 year old black stallion, Chester Blackmore 3729, sire Chester Dare 10, dam Nettle 3661, by Bourbon Chief 976, 2nd by Peavine 85, for $700.

N. L. Williford, bought of Tom Stig gall, 53 acres of land, known as the Coom farm. Mr. Williford is an industrious man, and of high standing in his community and the Record predicts a prosperous life for him.

Airy's King Fox No 74, 165.

Not a better bred Jersey bull in Kentucky. Descended from a long line of champions in the show ring and at the milk pail. Will be allowed to serve approved cows at $3 cash at time of service with return privilege. At my barn on Hamilton Avenue in Lancaster, Ky. G. B. Swinebroad. 2-19 tf.

The farm of Misses Mattie and Jane Spurr on Greendale pike four miles from Lexington, was sold a few days ago at auction and brought the price of $216 and acre. or $5.40 for the entire place. It was bought by Fred Reisor. It contains 25 acres, with a modern 5 room cottage. This is the highest price paid for farming land in Kentucky for many years.—Richmond Climax.

Declaring that the farmer should receive as much profit from his business as the manufacturer or merchant, and the minimum price of wheat on the farm should be $1.25 a bushel, the American Secretary of Equity transmitted a paper to Congress showing the cost of farm materials, machinery, etc. The figures show that the cost of producing wheat is $1.194.

Much more attention will be paid in the future to breeding mules, as there seems to be more money in them than in any other class of live stock just now. Ordinary two-year-old mules now bring $125 as against $75 and $80 a few years ago. The better class of two-year-olds bring as high as $200. Older mules, that are well broken, are selling from $200 to $275 each, and fancy ones go even a little higher. Of course it is necessary to have good jacks to breed good mules.—Harradburg Democrat.

In the State of Massachusetts mortality statistics are kept very closely. For a period of forty-three years this problem was carefully watched and the death and age of each person recorded, in order to ascertain what occupations are most apt to conduce to long life. First on the list are those who till the soil. Farmers are given an average longevity by these statistics of a little over sixty-six years. It thus appears that farmers live, on an average, nearly twelve years longer than people who follow any other occupation.

Uncle Sam has now less than one hundred million acres of land left that is fit for agricultural use. This is less than one acre for each person now living under his protection. In forty years, the government statisticians say we shall have two hundred million people in the United States. On the other hand, because our farmers are constantly skinning and depleting the soil, the rate of production is steadily decreasing. Contrast this with the condition in Europe, where the population is far denser than in the United States. There the rate of yielding wheat is two or three times as great per acre as here.

FARMER'S COLUMN

King David's Eloquence.

Eloquence is accounted the greatest of all possible gifts among the Arabs. According to Arab tradition, the most superlative degree of eloquence was attained by King David, such being the beauty of his diction, added to the poetry of his words, that when he declaimed the psalms even birds and wild beasts were spellbound, while on some occasions as many as 400 men died from the excess of delight induced by his reading.

VERDICT

Will make season of 1909 at my place, 4 1/2 miles from Lancaster on Poor House Pike.

Verdict is a dark chestnut, 15 1/2 hands, coming 8-year-old, with as much natural style and action as any stallion living, as fine as any mare or gelding you will see, combining all the qualities—size, looks, breeding, style and action that go to make a great sire and a first-class producer. If the law of nature repeats itself—"that like begets like"—then you have an ideal stock horse in Verdict. I claim that Verdict carries more of the blood of Old Peavine and Washington Denmark than any horse living, as his breeding will show.

Verdict's career as a show horse has rarely been equaled, winning as a 2 year old and as a 3 year-old straight through the Fair Circuit without a break, closing his 3-year-old campaign at the Louisville Horse Show by winning two first ties in his class and winning second in his class for stallions any age, thus going against the pick of the aged stallions from Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri. In a ring of fifteen horses, Verdict's show career was cut short in 1902 by sickness, only showing at Richmond and Lexington where he won first premium in aged stallion class.

In 1903 Verdict had fully recovered from his illness, and after making a heavy season he showed first at Kirksville, where he won the $500 stake for best stallion, mare or gelding, also first for best aged stallion. His second show was at Lexington, where he won first, then to Harrodsburg, where he won first in aged stallions, first in Sweepstakes, (18 entries) first in combined ring and first in model ring at this fair. Verdict met with an unfortunate accident which kept him from going to the Louisville Horse Show, for which he was being specially prepared under the able supervision of Mat S. Cohen.

Pedigree.

Verdict 1621, sired by Cero Gordo 1022; by Black Squirrel 58; by Black Eagle 71; by King Williams 67; by Washington Denmark 61. Verdict's dam, Jay Bird 1045; by Peavine 85; 2d dam by Young Diamond; by Diamond Denmark 65; by Washington Denmark 64.

Cero Gordo's dam, Miss Richmond 561, by King Richard; by Peavine 85. King Richard's dam, Peavine (also) by Imported Pharo, Miss Richmond's dam Jenny Lynn 861, by Stonewall Jackson 72; by Washington Denmark 64.

You will see that Verdict traces three times to Peavine 85 (Old Peavine) and three times to Washington Denmark, thus combining the blood of two of the greatest show horses that ever lived.

History Of Tobacco.

In an important tobacco bulletin issued by the Kentucky Experimental Station, among many instructive and valuable articles concerning tobacco, appears the following brief history of the weed. "Tobacco," says the bulletin, "belongs to the order of plants commonly known as the nightshade family. Its generic name, 'Nicotiana,' was given it in honor of Jean Nicot, French Ambassador to Portugal in 1600. The aborigines of America grew tobacco long before the advent of the white man. The French explorers, Marquette and La-Salle, found it in cultivation and use by the Indians along the Mississippi and Ohio rivers and their tributaries as early as 1609 and 1673. In 1750, Captain Christopher Gist, an agent for the Ohio Company, came down the Ohio river and found tobacco being grown by a tribe of Indians at Shawanestown, the present site of Portsmouth, Ohio. During the same time tobacco was being grown by the Shawanese at the present site of Indian Fields, Ky., Clark county. It was grown at Boonsboro, and later tobacco became, as history relates, a medium of exchange, serving the purpose of money. White Burley was first grown in Brown county, Ohio, and then transplanted into Kentucky, where it thrives as in no other State."

The Japanese Bible.

It is said that when the Bible was translated into Japanese an equivalent to the word "baptize" was not to be found, and the word "soak" had to be used instead, so that the Japanese are acquainted with a person of the name of "John the Soaker," and with a doctrine of "soaking for the remission of sins."

Good Lin'ment.

Hidden in Vain.

A young lady who wears one of those big hats has endured all the gibes and jeers cast at her chapeau in dignified silence. The last straw, however, was the remark that a friend makes every time he meets her: "Come out from under that hat," he calls. "We all know you are there," Boston Record.

Prof. H. A. Howell, of Havana, Cuba, Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

As long as I can remember my mother was a faithful user and friend of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, but never in my life have I realized its true value until now," writes Prof. H. A. Howell, of Howell's American School, Havana Cuba. "On the night of February 31 our baby was taken sick with a very severe cold; the next day was worse and the following night his condition was desperate. He could not lie down and it was necessary to have him in the arms ever moment. Even then his breathing was difficult. I did not think he would live until morning. At last I thought of my mother's remedy, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which we gave, and it afforded prompt relief, and now three days later, he has fully recovered. Under the circumstances I would not hesitate a moment in saying that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and that only saved the life of our dear little boy." For sale by F. P. Frisbie.

Imitators of Narcissus.

Women, as a rule, are so intensely and so naturally coquetish that on a desert island they would look for water not as a beverage but for use as a mirror.—Zeitung, Vienna.

The Disturbing Telephone.

"The telephone has destroyed all the privacy of society," said the society girl. "It breaks in on everything. Nothing is sacred to it. You may be saying your prayers. The telephone. Or in the midst of your bath. The telephone. Or doing up your back hair, or, worst of all, a delightful man may be making love to you, when k-l-i-n-g, k-l-i-n-g! The telephone breaks off the thread of his theme and he fails to resume it."

Wagner Fooled the Critics.

Here is a story of Wagner's visit to London in 1855: After the first Philharmonic concert the critics reproached him for conducting a Beethoven symphony without the score. At the second concert, to satisfy his audience, Wagner had a "partition" on his desk, which he frequently consulted. The critics declared the improvement was marked. The score, however, was Rossini's "Barber de Seville."
